OF THE PASSION OF THE LORD

The final Sunday of the Lenten season engages us in a full dress rehearsal for the liturgies of the great Three Days about to be celebrated: Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and the Easter Vigil.

Mass begins with a commemoration of Jesus' entry into Jerusalem. He arrives on a domestic animal, a donkey, not on a warlike horse, much less in a chariot. Though acclaimed enthusiastically with palm branches and hosannas, he comes in peace and subverts popular expectations of a political messiah.

The second highlight of today's liturgy is the proclamation of the Passion narrative. This year it is Luke's account that we read. We already know that in a week's time we shall be celebrating resurrection. Hearing the full story of Jesus' suffering and death today cautions us not to try and get ahead of ourselves. We may be tempted to try and take a short cut to glory. Victory certainly beckons, but it will not be ours before we have accompanied Jesus on the way of the cross.

The Palm Procession will start from the Parish Rosary Garden at 9:45am and proceed into the Church for 10:00am Mass.

The Paschal Triduum

The evening Mass of the Lord's Supper gets the Paschal Triduum under way. The liturgies of Holy Thursday, Good Friday and the Easter Vigil are three parts of a single whole.

Tonight's liturgy takes the familiar form of a Eucharist, but with distinctive features; the washing of hands, a special collection for the poor and the transfer of the sacrament for tomorrow's Holy Communion. The transfer offers us an invitation to prepare prayerfully for the next day's service.

There is no dismissal tonight.

The liturgy of Good Friday is both solemn and simple. The shape of the service is clear. It has three distinct components: Liturgy of the Word (with readings, homily and prayers), Adoration of the Holy Cross, and Holy Communion.

The solemnity of the celebration is reinforced by the silence with which it is surrounded.

On no other occasion in the liturgical year does a service begin and end in silence, without greeting or dismissal.

For all its solemnity, the Good Friday liturgy is not sad or mournful. On the contrary what is being celebrated is the triumph of the cross.

Fire, light, water and oil, bread and wine, a common table – these are the elemental symbols which thrill our hearts on this night of nights, the Easter Vigil.

"This is the night, when Christ broke the prison-bars of death and rose victorious from the underworld."

This is the night of life, of light, of love. This is the night on which light blazes in the darkness, the night on which we wait and watch and listen, the night we bathe in the waters of life, the night we break bread at table with the risen Lord.
