A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Philippians

His state was divine, yet Christ Jesus did not cling to his equality with God but emptied himself to assume the condition of a slave, and became as men are,
and being as all men are,
he was humbler yet,
even to accepting death,
death on a cross.
But God raised him high and gave him the name which is above all other names so that all beings
in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld, should bend the knee at the name of Jesus and that every tongue should acclaim Jesus Christ as Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

The Passion
of our Lord Jesus Christ
according to Matthew

26:14 — 27:66

Commentary on the Gospel

Every year on this Sunday the story of Jesus' betrayal, passion and death is told at length. The reading is taken in turn from one of the synoptic gospels — Matthew, Mark or Luke — because we always read John's account on Good Friday. This year we read from Matthew.

The gospel of Matthew is one of the most Jewish works in the New Testament. He is concerned to present Jesus as the Messiah who fulfils Israel's deepest longings and hopes while, at the same time, confounding those expectations. For Matthew Jesus is son of David, son of God. This perspective colours the way he tells the story of Jesus' last earthly hours.

WORDS OF WISDOM

"I think the challenge for people now is the same challenge astronauts face, and that's how to be resourceful when you have limited opportunities and limited options available to you."

GO FURTHER TOGETHER

Sixth
Sunday
of Lent

Dominic, 47 is a former teacher and father of six from Papua New Guinea. In 2016, he became involved with the Caritas Australia's Safe House and Family Anonymous programs and turned a difficult life and an unhappy relationship around.

The program provides gender-based violence prevention training, counselling services and safe accommodation for women and children survivors of violence. Now a community trainer, he works with other men to help them to change their behaviour and build more harmonious family lives. Dominic and his wife, Christophylda say that their relationship has been transformed – and their family life is now harmonious, happy and safe.

Please donate to Project Compassion 2020 to help support the Safe House project and help bring greater harmony to families in Papua New Guinea.

Let's Go Further, Together. The various ways you can donate are listed below.
