A READING FROM THE HOLY GOSPEL
ACCORDING TO JOHN

Jesus said:

'I am the good shepherd:
the good shepherd is one who lays down
his life for his sheep.
The hired man, since he is not the shepherd
and the sheep do not belong to him, abandons the sheep and runs away
as soon as he sees a wolf coming,
and then the wolf attacks and scatters the sheep;
this is because he is only a hired man
and has no concern for the sheep.
I am the good shepherd;
I know my own
and my own know me,
just as the Father knows me
and I know the Father;
and I lay down my life for my sheep.
And there are other sheep I have
that are not of this fold,
and these I have to lead as well.
They too will listen to my voice,
and there will be only one flock
and one shepherd.
The Father loves me,
because I lay down my life
in order to take it up again.
No one takes it from me;
I lay it down of my own free will,
and as it is in my power to lay it down,
so it is in my power to take it up again;
and this is the command I have been given by my Father.

COMMENTARY ON THE GOSPEL

Jesus presents himself as true shepherd in two senses. He defends the flock from the external threat of wolves (probably false teachers) and also devotes himself to nurturing its internal life. Interwoven in the gospel narrative are typical Johannine themes: the intimate relationship between Jesus and "his own" and between Jesus and his Father, the sovereign freedom with which Jesus acts, and his profound desire for unity.

SPECIAL FEAST

29 April:

CATHERINE
OF SIENA
1347-1380

Born at Siena (Italy) in 1347, Catherine was committed to the practice of prayer and penance from an early age. She entered the Dominican Third Order while still an adolescent. She became an influential spiritual leader and made strenuous efforts to reconcile Church and state and to reform the Roman papacy. In a series of letters, Catherine exhorted the pope to address the problems of the church and charged him to return to Rome.

One year later, in 1377, after Catherine had visited with him in Avignon, Pope Gregory XI finally returned to Rome. It was the great moment of her public life.

She is remembered for her holiness and determination and, though she never learned to write, for the quality of her teachings. She is also remembered as a mystic and reformer of religious life.

Catherine died in Rome at the age of 33. In 1970 the Roman Catholic Church declared her a doctor of the church — a title given since the Middle Ages to certain saints whose writing or preaching is outstanding for guiding the faithful in all periods of the Church's history.
