A READING FROM THE HOLY GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK

As Jesus left Jericho with his disciples and a large crowd, Bartimaeus (that is, the son of Timaeus), a blind beggar, was sitting at the side of the road. When he hears that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to shout and to say, 'Son of David, Jesus, have pity on me.' And many of them scolded him and told him to keep quiet, but he only shouted all the louder, 'Son of David, have pity on me.' Jesus stopped and said, 'Call him here.' So they called the blind man, 'Courage,' they said 'get up; he is calling you.' So throwing off his cloak he jumped up and went to Jesus. Then Jesus spoke, 'What do you want me to do for you?' 'Rabbuni,' the blind man said to him, 'Master, let me see again.' Jesus said to him, 'Go; your faith has saved you.' And immediately his sight returned and he followed him along the road.

COMMENTARY ON THE GOSPEL

In last Sunday's gospel, when approached by James and John for a favour, Jesus asks them, "What is it you want me to do for you?" They make the mistake of asking for positions of power and glory, and are rebuffed. When Bartimaeus fronts up to him, Jesus asks the same question. When the beggar replies, "Master, let me see again," Jesus immediately affirms him and answers his plea.

The stark contrast between the two brothers and the blind beggar is shown earlier in the story. Not only is Bartimaeus ready to cast off his most precious possession - his cloak - in order to come to Jesus, but once he has received back the sight that restored his social respectability he chooses to follow Jesus. Whereas James and John recklessly claim they can suffer with Jesus, Bartimaeus makes the bold decision to follow him just as his way of the cross is about to commence.

This episode combines great human appeal with profound teaching.

Christmas is a special time of year. The weeks leading up to the special holiday have a certain feel, both festive and frantic as people prepare for the big day. It is well understood that the spiritual gift of Christmas can be easily missed amongst all the clamour of the season.

Fortunately, the liturgical season of Advent presents us with some key teachings that help us get the most out of Christmas and not miss the treasured gift that is at the heart of it all. This talk will focus on some of the key biblical texts drawn on through Advent. Reflecting on them will open up how we can get the most out of Christmas and out of our faith in general.
