STATEMENT

The Most Rev Timothy Costelloe SDB
Archbishop of Perth and President of the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference

09 September 2022

Queen Elizabeth II

1926 - 2022

To many of us our beliefs are of fundamental importance. I prize the teachings of Christ and my own personal accountability before God provide a framework in which to try to lead my life. It is for so many of you, have drawn great comfort in difficult times from Christ's words and example' (2000)

The death of Queen Elizabeth II, after a long reign marked by extraordinary constancy, fidelity, courage and service, will bring great sadness to many people in Australia, including members of the Catholic community.

As the Queen enters into the great mystery of eternal life with the Lord, we will pray for the repose of her soul and for the support and comfort of her family, her nation and the wider community of the Commonwealth.

A READING FROM THE HOLY GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE

Jesus said to his disciples, 'There was a rich man and he had a steward who was denounced to him for being wasteful with his property. He called for the man and said, "What is this I hear about you? Draw me up an account of your stewardship because you are not to be my steward any longer." Then the steward said to himself, "Now that my master is taking the stewardship from me, what am I to do? Dig? I am not strong enough. Go Begging? I should be too ashamed. Ah, I know what I will do to make sure that when I am dismissed from the office there will be some to welcome me into their homes." '

Then he called his master's debtors one by one. To the first he said, "How much do you owe my master?" "One hundred measures of oil" was the reply. The steward said, "Here, take your bond; sit down straight away and write fifty." To another he said, "And you, sir, how much do you owe?" "One hundred measures of wheat" was the reply. The steward said, "Here, take your bond and write eighty."

'The master praised the dishonest steward for his astuteness. For the children of this world are more astute in dealing with their own kind than are the children of light.

'And so I tell you this: use money, tainted as it is, to win your friends, and thus make sure that when it fails you, they will welcome you into the tents of eternity. The man who can be trusted in little things can be trusted in great; the man who is dishonest in little things will be dishonest in great. If then you cannot be trusted with money, that tainted thing, who will trust you with genuine riches? And if you cannot be trusted with what is not yours, who will give you what is your very own?

'No servant can be the slave of two masters; he will either hate the first and love the second, or treat the first with respect and the second with scorn. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.

*Dear Parishioners and Visitors,
Sometimes, instead of telling us in detail what we should do and not do, the gospels tell us what we should be thinking, what attitudes we should have in particular situations. Today Luke is using our Lord's teaching to show us how we should think about everything we possess. The key word is 'stewards'. Everything we see as being our possession really belongs to God, the Creator. It is handed over to us precisely to share with others, especially the most needy.*

The good news is that those who have less than we do provide us with an opportunity to imitate God who is generous and compassionate. By sharing our time, our talents, our possessions we become true images of God, which is what we were created to become. Moreover, Jesus identifies with the poor; so helping them is helping Jesus: "I was sick and you visited me."
