A READING FROM THE HOLY GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

The Pharisees went away to work out between them how to trap Jesus in what he said. And they sent their disciples to him, together with the Herodians, to say, 'Master, we know that you are an honest man and teach the way of God in an honest way, and that you are not afraid of anyone, because a man's rank means nothing to you. Tell us your opinion then. Is it permissible to pay taxes to Caesar or not?' But Jesus was aware of their malice and replied, 'You hypocrites! Why do you set this trap for me? Let me see the money you pay the tax with.' They handed him a denarius, and he replied, 'Whose head is this? Whose name?' 'Caesar's,' they replied. He then said to them, 'Very well, give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar - and to God what belongs to God.'

COMMENTARY ON THE GOSPEL

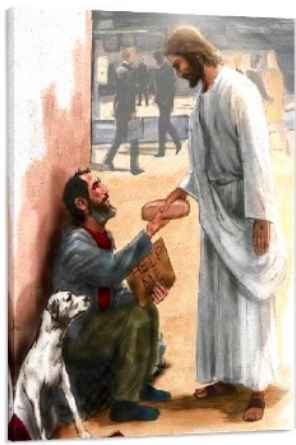

Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

I often think it's funny when a small child comes up the aisle for Holy Communion and you can't help noticing that they are the "image" of one of their parents. It's almost as though their mother or father has suddenly shrunk back to the size they were twenty-five (or so) years ago.

Images play a big part in our lives. Everybody, these days, seems to be taking pictures and producing images of other people or even themselves. Often enough they end up on something like "facebook." When I was little every family had photos in their home, reminding them of people they loved.

Today the gospel is about images. In Jesus' time people had to pay taxes to the Roman authorities using Roman coins, and these coins all had the image of the Roman emperor on them. That meant they belonged to the emperor. The money was his. In a similar way, Jesus is saying, each of us is an image of God. That's the way we were created.

Therefore, we belong to God, as the Roman coins belong to the emperor. And just as we look after what belongs to us, so we can be confident that God is looking after us in a special way because he created us in his own image and shares with us his own life and nature through the gift of grace.

So the gospel again is about us. We are images of God in a special way because we share his life. But our likeness to God is meant to grow. That is why we are at Mass today, to be further nourished into God's likeness by the Eucharist, the great sign of God's care for what belongs to him.

Fr Tom.

DAY OF PRAYER & FASTING

Friday, October 27.

Pope Francis, at the end of his general audience on Wednesday morning, announced another day of prayer and fasting for an end to the Israel-Hamas war.

"I have decided to call for a day of fasting and prayer on Friday, Oct. 27," the pope said.

"It will be a day of penance to which I invite sisters and brothers of the various Christian denominations, those belonging to other religions, and all those who have at heart the cause of peace in the world, to join in as they see fit." the Holy Father continued.

The Holy Father's announcement was preceded by his renewed appeal for peace in the Holy Land. ...

PRAYER FOR PEACE FROM ROME

During the Synod's morning prayer, the President of the Focolare Movement, Margaret Karram, a Palestinian Catholic, invited prayers for peace.

"Lord, we pray to you for the Holy Land, for the people of Israel and Palestine who are under the grip of unprecedented violence, for the victims, especially the children, for the wounded, for those held hostage, for the missing and their families.

In these hours of anguish and suspension, we join our voices to that of the Pope and to the choral prayer of those around the world who implore peace."

POETRY CORNER

'I Shall Gather Up'

I shall gather up
All the lost souls
That wander this earth
All the ones that are alone,
All the ones that are broken
All the ones that never really fitted in
I shall gather them all up
And together we shall find our home.
