POETRY CORNER

"Man was made for Joy & Woe"

It is right it should be so
Man was made for Joy & Woe
And when this we rightly know
Thro the World we safely go
Joy & Woe are woven fine
A Clothing for the soul divine
Under every grief & pine
Runs a joy with silken twine.

(From 'Auguries of Innocence' - William Blake)

A READING FROM THE HOLY GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

The eleven disciples set out for Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had arranged to meet them. When they saw him they fell down before him, though some hesitated. Jesus came up and spoke to them. He said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go, therefore, make disciples of all the nations; baptise them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teach them to observe all the commands I gave you. And know that I am with you always; yes, to the end of time.

LIVING THE GOSPEL THIS WEEK

Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

I never mind repeating other people's ideas. One I particularly like is comparing what we call the 'Liturgy of the Word', the first part of our Mass, to a conversation with God. God speaks to us in the Scripture readings, and we reply to him in the prayers, psalm, responses, alleluias and intercession. It can become quite an intimate dialogue. For the readings will mean something a little different to each of us, depending on our present circumstances. Even the same readings will mean something a bit different each time we hear them, for the same reason. And yet God is speaking to us as a community who all believe, trust and love him. And so we make our responses together as members of that community. The conversation is not just God and me, but God and everyone present – Jesus' Body of earth, the 'household of God' - as Scripture calls us. We listen in, not just to God but to each other.

Our Bible is itself written largely in the form of conversations between God and his people, in both Old and New Testaments. God speaks to Adam, Abraham, Moses, David, the prophets, and they respond. Jesus forms a community of disciples in the gospels and gradually, through interaction, they and their successors become the Body of Christ on earth.

The main point today is that by being drawn into conversation with God, through the Scriptures and at Mass, we are being drawn into an already existing relationship of love between the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. It is a little bit like becoming more deeply embedded into a loving family, where we are always welcome and can feel 'at home'. It is also a bit like the Blessed Trinity coming to dwell within and feel at home with us.

Fr Tom

The Household of God
